DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

Figures 1A, 1B, 2, 6, and 7 should be designated by a legend such as --Prior Art-- because only that which is old is illustrated. See MPEP § 608.02(g). Corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The replacement sheet(s) should be labeled "Replacement Sheet" in the page header (as per 37 CFR 1.84(c)) so as not to obstruct any portion of the drawing figures. If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 1, "main signal leads" and "auxiliary signal leads" are not clearly defined in the claim so that it is not clear which signal is main and which signal is auxiliary. For the examination purposes, any signal lead is considered as main or auxiliary signal lead.

In claim 3, "their sides" makes the claim unclear. It is not clear what is "their" in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1, 4, 5, and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tajiri et al [USPAT 6,038,203].

Tajiri et al disclose an optical head with photo detector mounted on flexible circuit board, and show in fig. 4 that an optical device comprising:

- A printed board 30;
- A co-axial laser diode 33;
- A plurality of main signal leads;
- A plurality of auxiliary signal leads; and
- A plurality of lands [all the dark printed area in the board 30].

For the examination purposes, the signal leads connected to the lands, which are located closed to the end of the printed board are considered as main signal leans. The signal leads in between main signal leads, such as a middle lead in the lower part of the laser diode, and the middle lead in the upper part of the laser diode in the drawing are considered as auxiliary signal leads.

Claims 2 and 3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tajiri et al as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Greulich [USPAT 4,817,234].

Tajiri et al disclose every aspect of claimed invention except for the land encapsulated by insulating material.

Greulich discloses shielded electronic control device and teaches that the circuit board is encapsulated by insulating material for the purpose of preventing damaging electrical sparkover or electrostatic discharge from reaching the components mounted on the circuit [column 2, lines 55-end].

Therefore, It would have been obvious to the ordinary skilled person in the art at the time the invention was made to modify Tajiri et al's device to include the land encapsulated by insulating material for the purpose of preventing damaging electrical sparkover or electrostatic discharge from reaching the components mounted on the circuit.
